Description

This workshop continues an outline of the Massachusetts IHT practice guidelines and highlights ways in which these standards can be used to enhance clinical effectiveness. It provides an over-arching framework to include family members as active participants in their own care with particular attention to providing culturally relevant services, revisits the importance of care coordination as an important clinical activity, and offers concrete practices for transition planning.

Intended Audience

The target audience for Coloring Between the Lines is practice leaders from In-Home Therapy programs throughout Massachusetts. These will include clinical supervisors, clinical directors, and in-home therapists who are in a position to share their learning with colleagues.

Continuing Education Credits

Social Work, LMHC, and LMFT credits are being offered for this workshop. Participants are expected to sign-in and out at each session, attend the entire program, and complete all evaluations. Obtaining CE credits is FREE for all participants.

Credits	Requirements
6	Attend BOTH sessions
3	Attend ONE session

Social Work: The application for social work continuing education credits has been submitted to the Collaborative of NASW and the Boston College and Simmons Schools of Social Work.

LMHC: Berkshire AHEC is an NBCC-Approved Continuing Education Provider (ACEP) and a cosponsor of this program. Berkshire AHEC may award NBCC-approved clock hours for programs that meet NBCC requirements. The ACEP maintains responsibility for the content of this event.

LMFT: Application has been made to Family Development Associates for the certification of hours for Licensed Marriage and Family Therapists (LMFT's).

To obtain CE credits, participants will be asked to provide their name, professional license number, mailing address, and contact information on the CE Certificate Application Form. Certificates will not be processed until all sessions are completed. Certificates will be mailed 4-6 weeks after the last seminar.
